

Star Pitcher Clayton Kershaw Makes Bold Faith Declaration During LA Dodgers' Pride Night

Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Clayton Kershaw is being applauded on social media for “reminding everyone what the rainbow really represents” during the team’s Pride night.

The entire team wore hats with a rainbow-colored team logo during Friday’s game against the San Francisco Giants, but Kershaw’s cap had a bold message written on it.

Screenshots of Kershaw during the game, which were shared on social media, showed “Gen 9:12-16” on the front of the hat.

Incredible things are happening.

The LA Dodgers forced pagan ‘pride month’ activism on their team with rainbow logos.

Star Pitcher Clayton Kershaw took matters into his own hands and wrote Genesis 9:12-16 on his Pride hat to remind everyone that the rainbow is God’s creation...

It is a reference to Genesis 9:12-16 which reads: “And God said, ‘This is the sign of the covenant that I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for all future generations: I have set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between me and the earth. When I bring clouds over the earth and the bow is seen in the clouds, I will remember my covenant that is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh. And the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all flesh. When the bow is in the clouds, I will see it and remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is on the earth.'"

The scripture cites God's promise to Noah that He would never destroy the earth with a flood again. The rainbow in the sky was a sign of that promise.
