

‘Stick to God’: San Antonio Chick-fil-A Manager Boldly Shares Faith with Diners, Goes Viral for Powerful Prayer

In a heartening display of Christian courage, a manager at a Chick-fil-A restaurant in San Antonio, Texas, took a moment during the lunch rush to walk through the dining area and deliver an uplifting prayer and message to customers.

The manager, whose name has not been publicly released, encouraged patrons to place their trust in God and Jesus Christ, especially amid life’s hardships. He spoke passionately about the importance of faith, urging listeners to “stick to God” as he moved among the tables.

The heartfelt moment was captured on video and later shared on X (formerly Twitter) where it went viral, by Danielle D’Souza Gill, daughter of political commentator Dinesh D’Souza and wife to Rep. Brandon Gill, quickly amassing millions of impressions and widespread praise.

This San Antonio, Texas Chick-fil-A manager has gone viral for praying for his customers and encouraging them to “stick to God” during lunch.

More of this, please! God bless him. ☐

– Danielle Gill (@danielledsouzag) April 9, 2026

While some diners appeared focused on their meals and conversations, the bold act of public witness resonated deeply with many believers online. The post, which simply stated “More of this, please! God bless him,” sparked thousands of supportive comments celebrating unashamed faith in the public square.

Order Travis Johnson's New Book, "[Un]Embarrassed" on !

This inspiring event highlights the enduring Christian heritage of Chick-fil-A, a company founded on biblical principles that famously closes its doors on Sundays to honor the Lord's Day.

This manager's willingness to share the hope of the Gospel serves as a timely reminder of the call given to us all in Matthew 5:16: "Let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven."

Prepared by Charisma Media Staff.