Stock Market Expert Reports Growth Market Is Moving Higher

The Issachar Fund (LIONX, BRI & ESG) is 88% invested in 45 growth stocks as of Sunday, Dec. 27, 2020. I took LIONX to a more fully invested position last week as my conviction level increased mainly due to how growth stocks responded to the additional liquidity being generated by the Fed. The Fed still appears to have its foot on the gas, and the market seems to be OK with creating more and more money out of thin air. The economy appears to be firing on all cylinders, and President Trump signed a $2.3 trillion bill that avoided a government shutdown. On Monday, the House voted to raise the $600 stimulus check to $2,000 that Trump is demanding.

How long can an irresponsible government keep borrowing money without plans to pay it back before the market crushes its currency? I hope and pray that I am not around when inflation skyrockets and the dollar collapses. My faith is in God and not the government. A currency failure could cause life-changing losses that I plan to avoid. I attempt to manage risk every day in LIONX and decide if the potential risk is worth the potential reward I am seeking. Currently, I see “risk” as being relatively low for the potential reward I expect. However, I could change my opinion in a heartbeat if prices collapse. The Lyons family Christmas vacation was covered in snow! We rented a high-top van and drove 12 hours to a cabin on top of the highest mountain in Sevierville, Tennessee. We hiked, fished, zip-lined and took a helicopter tour over Gatlinburg, Pigeon Forge and the Great Smoky Mountains. It was all wonderful and spectacular until we got about a foot of snow at our cabin; then it was stunningly beautiful. Everything was covered in a white powder of snow for miles in all directions, and God's majestic beauty took my breath away. God waited until Christmas day to bless us with such a marvelous view that we will never forget. I believe God gave us a taste of what heaven might look like, and I can't wait to see the real thing. I am so blessed, and I pray God would bless you more than He has blessed me simply because He can, and He enjoys doing it.

Bottom Line: LIONX is close to being fully invested, and the market seems to be rewarding us for taking risk. I am pleased with the year-to-date performance, and I expect to finish the year on a good note. I believe the market will continue to advance higher as long as the Fed keeps its foot on the gas, flooding the market with liquidity and keeping rates near zero. An upset in the Senate's balance of power could trigger a market correction, so I will be watching the market's reaction to the Georgia Senate race on Jan. 5. God is still in control; He loves us unconditionally and that will never change. I hope and pray that you experience the love and peace of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen!

"Grace, mercy, and peace will be with you from God the Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love" (2 John 1:3).

Important Risk Information: *Mutual Funds involve risks, including the possible loss of principal. An investment in the Fund may not be appropriate for all investors. The Fund may hold cash positions when the adviser feels that the market is not producing returns greater than the short-term cash investments in which the Fund may invest. There is a risk that the sections of the market in which the Fund invests will begin to rise or fall rapidly, and the Fund will not be able to sell stocks quickly enough to avoid losses or reinvest its cash positions into areas of the advancing market quickly enough to capture the initial returns of changing market conditions. The adviser's judgment about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of particular asset classes and securities in which the Fund invests may prove incorrect and may not produce the desired results. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Ratings are only one form of Fund performance and should not be used as the sole consideration in making an investment decision.
