

Stop Surviving!

You were created to overcome. You were not created to merely survive.

Do you know people who spend their entire lives just trying to survive?

- They don't do or say anything that may cause waves or conflict.
- Their goal is to have enough money to only pay their bills.
- Their vision consists of them making it through another day.
- They coast through life waiting for retirement.

Thousands of people will simply live in survival mode, refusing to do something that may make them uncomfortable. They want to live and stay in a comfortable place and usually won't get out of that box.

To overcome, you may need to do something you haven't ever done before. You may need to say what you have been hesitant to say. You may need to change the way you think. You may need to enlarge your vision. You may need to do something that makes you uncomfortable.

Go ahead. Do something you have never done before! Be the overcomer you were created to be!
