

Sustainable Freedom Lab Founder: We Stand Ready to Help President-Elect Trump

Dear President-elect Trump:

Aware Americans want the federal government out of our healthcare, out of our schools and away from our property rights and community rule.

President-elect Trump, we are tired of politicians' lies. That is why we voted you into office.

The Nazis did not coax Jews into boxcars by telling them they were going to gas chambers. They told them they were meeting their families and would soon be freed.

Hitler seduced Germans into passively accepting his abominations by plying them with food stamps, free healthcare and free college. He provided government jobs repairing the infrastructure, preached the dangers of cigarettes and the value of organic farming.

So, too, Americans have been soothed into government dependence.

Washington's lies about Obamacare, HUD relocation programs and Common Core student data collection may not kill us. They will strip away our right to control our own property, to live in the homes we choose next to the neighbors we like and to send our children to school knowing they are safe from sexual predators or social and emotional manipulation.

Worse, these political lies will consign our children to a lifetime of debt, taxes, dashed dreams and economic mediocrity.

President-elect Trump, we do not want to “repeal and replace” Obamacare any more than we want to “fix” Common Core or “tinker” with HUD’s Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing. We want these centrally controlled mandates run down, rooted out wherever they lead and vaporized until there is no trace they ever existed.

There are and always have been far superior free market solutions.

We are either a constitutional republic operating within the bounds our founders established for a limited government; bounds that have fed over 200 years of American exceptionalism, or we are a socialist member of the global community standing in line awaiting our instructions.

There is no “half-way” compromise that will make America great again.

President-elect Trump, conservatives have answers and stand ready to assist you in fulfilling the promise our nation desperately needs. {eo}

John Anthony is the founder of Sustainable Freedom Lab. Mr. Anthony is the former Director of Sales and Marketing for Paul Mitchell Systems, Inc. In 1989, he founded Corporate Measures, LLC, a management development firm. In 2012, Mr. Anthony turned his attention to community issues including the balance between federal agency regulations and local autonomy. In January 2016, Mr. Anthony was a guest at the prestigious Rutgers University School of Management Fellowship honoring Dr. Louis Kelso. In March 2016, he was the keynote speaker on property rights at the Palmetto Panel at Clemson University.

This article was originally published at . Used with permission.