

The Spirit Took Over This Spontaneous Worship Session—and the Result Is Anointed

Housefires is the band that first wrote worship megahit “Good Good Father”—and now they’re at it again. The band was performing in concert when the Holy Spirit intervened and inspired a spontaneous song. Watch the video to see what happened next.