

There Is Grace Today For You to Be Healed

There is grace today for you to be healed!

Barry Bennett has been a missionary, a pastor, a teacher and is the author of "He Healed Them All." Barry wrote the book because he wants people to know that, like salvation, healing is available to everyone. Unfortunately, today's Christians have many doubts and religious hang ups about healing.

Healing is an expression of God's love. Jesus saw the multitudes, had compassion and healed their sick. It was His compassion and love that instituted the ministry of healing. God loves us and wants us to experience healing.

When Jesus ministered, everyone who came to Him was healed. Those who didn't go to Jesus, were not healed. When Jesus healed the man at the pool of Bethesda, He healed only one man because the other people at the pool were not seeking Jesus. They were seeking an angel, not healing from Jesus. Jesus asked the man, "do you want to be well?" That's a legitimate question because so many of us have become accustomed to our physical limitations or a doctor's pronouncement that poor health has become a lifestyle.

There are people who pray and don't get healed. Barry believes healing is a conception—something needs to be conceived in the heart, just like when we get born again by the seed of the Word of God. Healing needs to be conceived in the heart.

Many times our brains get in the way of what our hearts are truly believing. We think we believe because we have a belief system. We believe in healing, we've been taught healing and we have a mental understanding of healing, but healing has to be conceived and believed in the heart. It must be a revelation to the heart.

Attitudes are important in receiving healing. Some people complain they haven't been healed when instead they should be changing their attitude. God wants you to live a long, healthy life and to fulfill your purpose. It's your responsibility to keep your eyes focused on the goodness of God and keep positive words and thoughts of your future in mind. If you get negative, grumpy and whiny, that will not help the healing process. Be positive and expect the good things of God. You may have to set boundaries to stay away from the negative.

The Word of God is true. Are you going to doubt God's Word or believe it? It's your choice. The more you begin to make those choices, the easier it becomes to believe God has healing for you.
