"If you open up a door, and I'm talking in your physical home, and you give a demon a legal right, they will come in to disturb you," Saldivar says. "And a lot of people don't know what to do when they have a demon in their home."

While many people might not know what to do in this situation, Saldivar reminds Christians that they have the ultimate authority over these demonic entities.

"No matter how much you're being harassed, you have authority over these spirits. You have authority over these persons without bodies, these demonic, unclean beings. You have power and you have authority over them. Do not let them bully you. Do not let them torment you," says Saldivar.

One of the first things to do to rid your home of the paranormal is to make sure you don't have items inside of it that call attention to demonic activity.

"People oftentimes will bring in things that are demonic and they think it's innocent. Maybe this is a dream catcher, maybe this is a fortune telling book, maybe this is tarot cards, maybe this is a Ouija board. These items invite demons into your home," Saldivar says.

Spending time doing unbiblical actions like New Age practices with burning sage will also attract demons into your home. Saldivar further advises staying away from negative talk, bickering and bitter speech because demons are drawn to that type of language.

"First thing, is destroy everything that gives the demons legal right," Saldivar says.

He also recommends getting some anointing oil and anointing the doorways of your house. Another recommendation is also for a Christian to speak out loud, commanding the demon to leave.

"Verbally command every demon to leave and never return. Don't be shy about this. The demons can hear you. We've got to be bold in our home. Walk every single room, go to your kids' room, maybe when they're at school, go to your bedroom when your husband's at work or whatever, whatever demon you're fighting, and say, 'I command the demon to leave in Jesus' name. You have no power here. You have no authority here. And you will never return,'" Saldivar advises.

Saldivar points out how crucial it is to dedicate your home to the Lord after commanding the demon to leave.

"It's a simple prayer. 'Lord, I dedicate this house to you. I want this to be a place where Your Spirit can dwell,'" Saldivar prays.

This goes along with also asking the Lord to fill your home with the Holy Spirit.

“In the same way you ask the Holy Spirit to fill you and to anoint you and to touch you and to fill your family, ask the Holy Spirit, ‘fill my house,’” says Saldivar.

Remember, Jesus gave us His power and authority to do the works He has called us to. This can include taking authority over the very places we call home, so that the Holy Spirit may dwell there and use our homes as a place for miracles, signs and wonders to take place.
