

This May Be the Worst, Most Inappropriate Show on Television

Imagine the worst, most inappropriate, adult-oriented program on television that you can think of. Imagine it is being marketed and promoted to teens. VH1 has rated the content of the program, "Dating Naked," appropriate for children as young as 14-years-old! It is imperative that parents be warned about "Dating Naked," a program targeted directly to our youth with a TV-14 rating airing Wednesday evenings at 9:00 p.m. ET/8:00 p.m. CT on VH1.

The content is so provocative that the trashy reality dating show doesn't stop with nudity, but also includes graphic dialogue. These strangers go out on dates while drinking and discussing sex and their private parts for the duration of the hour long program.

VH1 should be ashamed to air nudity and then call it entertainment. Even though the frontal body parts are blurred out, showing so much skin leaves nothing to the imagination and is soft porn.

This horrendous show, packed full of extremely graphic content, has been extensively marketed to teens. The irresponsible behavior aired on this program from meaningless dialogue about sex to topics about body parts is outrageous!

This program is dangerous to our children's wellbeing, and IMM is shocked that any company would be willing to sponsor or be associated with this show. VH1 has to know that if they bring back "Dating Naked" for another season, they will do so with zero advertiser support! {eoa}
