

Tim and Demi-Leigh Tebow Announce Birth of Baby Girl

Tim and Demi-Leigh Tebow are celebrating the birth of their baby girl, Daphne Reign Tebow, announcing she was born on Sunday, July 6th.

"Our daughter is here! We couldn't be more grateful for the blessing and gift of this new little life," Demi-Leigh posted. "Thank you to everyone who's been praying with us over her arrival. We are so incredibly thankful for all of the love and support we've felt."

The next day, the new mom went on to post some color photos and revealed their reasons for the name they chose:

"Daphne is a name that's been close to my heart since I was a little girl. I never got to meet my mom's mother, but her sister, Daphne, stepped in as a grandma figure to me. She was so special to my mom and I – a tiny, kind and strong South African woman who always had shortbread in the house, was the epitome of grit and grace, loved Jesus, had the voice of an angel and made everyone feel seen and special. I used to tell my mom, 'I want to be just like Ouma Daphne one day.' I've loved this name since I was a little girl and for as long as I can remember I always said that if I ever get blessed with a daughter, I'll name her Daphne. Shortly after Tim and I got married, I shared that desire with him, and thankfully he loved the name just as much as I did!"

“And Reign... it’s a name that holds so much meaning. It’s inspired by a precious little girl Tim and I have loved deeply for years. Her story has shaped our hearts in ways I can’t even begin to explain. But more than anything, her name reminds us that when you’re adopted into God’s family, you become a child of the King. You were made to rule and reign—not in power, but in purpose, love, and identity.”
