

Tim Tebow's Shocking Story About John 3:16 'Coincidence' Goes Viral

A video of former NFL quarterback Tim Tebow recalling an amazing biblical "coincidence" in his life is going viral on social media.

The story begins with Tebow in his college football years. It was 2009, and he was weeks away from competing in the highly televised national championship football game.

Tebow said God led him to write John 3:16 under his eyes for all the world to see while he played.

"The next six weeks leading up to the game, I was really agonizing and contemplating what verse, and God kept bringing up to my heart and my head John 3:16, which is the essence of our Christianity. It's the essence of our hope," Tebow said in the video.

After winning the championship game, he found out something incredible happened. During the game: 94 million people Googled John 3:16

"Honestly, my first thought was 'How do 94 million people not know John 3:16?'" Tebow said. "I was just so humbled by how big the God is that we serve."

But that's not where the story ends.

Fast-forward three years to 2012. Tebow is a Denver Bronco playing the Pittsburgh Steelers in the playoffs, and after the Broncos win, he heads into the post-game press conference when his public relations representative stops him in his tracks.

"He says, 'Timmy, did you realize what happened?' I was like,

'Yeah, we just beat the Steelers. We're going to play the Patriots.' And he was like, 'No, do you realize what happened?'" Tebow shared.

"He said, 'It's exactly three years later from the day that you wore John 3:16 under your eyes,'" Tebow continued. "I was like, 'Oh, that's really cool.'"

"He said, 'No, I don't think you realize what happened. During the game you threw for 316 yards, your yards per completion were 31.6, your yards per rush were , the ratings for the night were 31.6, and the time of possession was and during the game 91 million people google John 3:16 and it's the No. 1 trending thing on every platform,'" Tebow shared.

"I was just standing there in the hallway about to do this press conference just thinking that that night was about a football game. It really wasn't ... we serve such a big God," he continued.

Tebow believes God did something miraculous that night.

"The God that we serve is a God of miracles," he said. "I just have to be willing to step out and say, 'Here you go, God, I'm going to give you my fish and my loaves of bread and watch what he does with it.'" {eoa}
