

Trump Willing to Go to War for Israel

Would President Donald Trump be willing to go to war for Israel? After observing his first full week in office, Revelation in the News' Zach Drew and Sasha Volz think he would.

"It's amazing to see how much focus and how much thought and how much peace that he is bringing to our relationship with Israel, which is ... the most important relationship we could ever have as a nation," Volz said. "So it's so amazing to see how much he really focuses in on this and how much of a priority he's really making this out to be."

What do you think of Trump's approach to Israel? Let us know in the comments.
