

This a Wake-Up Call for Everybody

In the wake of the Manchester suicide bombing a couple weeks ago, Sky News in the U.K. produced the video report above in which ISIS' connection to the attack was exposed.

But it also exposed the largest problem faced by terrorism, the almost willful ignorance and denial of family and friends who surround those involved in terrorism. The report shows how ISIS targets Muslim immigrants, and how the many of those who have already committed terrorism in the U.K. are all interconnected.

This should serve as a warning for the rest of the West, particularly those who advocate open borders for the U.S.
{eoa}