

WATCH Children Get Filled With the Holy Spirit in Jenny Weaver's "Core Group" Movement

Thousands of men, women and children are gathering from across the country in this new, explosive move of God. Jenny Weaver, once a devout Wiccan and drug addict was set free by God and became a passionate worshiper and follower of Jesus. God has taken her "yes" and is birthing something miraculous.

They call themselves, "The Core Group" and they first started meeting in April 2022 with just a few hundred women. Now they are meeting in hotels to go after the presence of God. People are being baptized in hotel hot tubs, salvations are following and women and men are finding biblical purpose for their lives.

"How was I supposed to know that 4,300 women would join the Core Group in a matter of months," Weaver says in a documentary coming out in Jan. 2023.

In the video you can see thousands of people worshipping, falling out in the Spirit and receiving their prayer language. "All the deliverances, if we counted them there would be thousands," she says.

What has transpired since the beginning of the year was more than she could have ever imagine. "It's so big that I don't believe that [the] Lord would even let me have that weight on me." She says it's a step by step, and moment by moment, trust walk with God.

"What started off as a mentorship has now turned into a movement."

Weaver's story is a testament to the power of one person surrendering to the will of God. She is a wife, homeschool mother and she believes in "building families and communities in the kingdom of God."
