

WATCH: Did Pat Robertson Really Say Left Wants Shariah Ideology Stateside?

700 Club host Pat Robertson is connecting the dots between the American left and Islamic law.

“The so-called left, the liberals want to rebel against the established order,” Robertson says. “And the established order of western civilization is basically Christian. It is based on the gospel, based on the good news, the gospel of the good news of Jesus Christ. And if anyone wants to rebel against that, then anything else goes.”

That “anything else” is supporting Shariah law, and Robertson believes the more the left fights against the right, the closer America comes to turning a blind eye, or even accepting, Shariah.

Watch the video and sound off on Robertson’s philosophy.
