

WATCH: Donald Trump Would 'Absolutely' Close Down Mosques to Fight ISIS

Fox Business host Stuart Varney recently asked Donald Trump if he agreed with anti-ISIS measures the British government had taken. These measures include revoking the passports of terrorists and closing mosques.

Varney didn't even finish asking the question before Trump eagerly gave his opinion.

The controversial Republican front-runner also weighed in on minimum wage, paid family leave and education.

Watch the video to hear what he had to say.
