

WATCH: Lou Engle Says, 'Together We Decree to Expose Voter Fraud' and More

With voter counts broadcasting around the clock, Lou Engle, founder of TheCall, is asking people around the world to pray and decree that God exposes the evil works happening in heaven and on earth.

"What a night. What a day. What a crisis we find ourselves in now, but this is not the time to despair," Engle said in a video he posted Wednesday. "My heart is deeply encouraged this morning; first of all, that God rules over the affairs of men and we can deeply trust Him. At the same time, He calls us to pray and to act in times of crisis."

Engle is the author of Fast Forward, a book where he shows the power of the Esther Fast, three days without food or water. In the Bible, this fast precedes a move of God that exposes the evil of Haman with a sudden reversal of fortunes.

Such a reversal is called for in the United States today. With Michigan and Wisconsin each having 140,000 mail-in ballots—with all of the votes for former vice president Biden—they are suspect.

"What are the odds that that could actually happen, and it happened right at the same time?" Engle asks. "There are spiritual powers, those in heaven and on earth, moving in corruption."

Engle asks that everyone decree that God will expose fraud and evil workings—for Zion's sake (Israel) and for the sake of unborn babies.

"I believe in the God of sudden reversals," he says. "We want a righteous election, an election that is true and right before God.”

From Fast Forward, Engle read:

“The church is not at the mercy of political decrees of destruction. Jesus is the Lord of history. Though these decrees stand today, they will not stand forever. God is the one who reverses the edicts of men using the church as an agent of righteous revolution to displace kings and overthrow their decrees through the weapons of fasting and prayer.”