

WATCH: Pat Robertson Issues Urgent Warning for Parents of Children Playing With 'Charlie, Charlie'

Don't think your kids are just messing around with their imagination when they cross two pencils on a piece of paper and pretend to summon spirits, Pat Robertson says.

"Folks, like it or not, demons are real," the 700 Club host says. "... They're not play things, and they're certainly not parlor games."

Robertson says they're disembodied spirits looking to possess people, and the Charlie Charlie Challenge is just opening a door for them.
