

What a Mysterious Lady With a Bag Can Teach You About Hope

A lady waited daily at an old oak tree. Golfers playing nearby only focused on the green while she watched cars pass by. She never talked to anyone or caused any trouble. She just sat under the tree with her bag and stared at the road.

Her reason remained a secret until one day, someone asked, "Who is she?"

Listen as Dr. Steve Greene tells the story of how a lady with a bag became a merchant of hope.
