

What God Would Say to You

Sometimes you take on the right posture and sincerely pray, but the difficult circumstances don't subside. When this occurs, you might be tempted to "let up" or walk away, but that would be a tragic mistake.

Contrary to popular assumptions, not everything is already in your line of vision. There are often subtle kingdom realities that you cannot perceive—at least yet.

The fullness of your destiny will often require you to walk a path that you have never traveled. Are you willing to enter into uncharted territory?

God is inviting you into a realm of discovery. He wants you to wrestle with the "mystery of the kingdom" (Mark 4:11). You can never forget that "It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, but the honor of kings is to search out a matter" (Prov. 25:2). It's only natural for the sons and daughters of the Most High to be on a lifelong quest.

Inheritances don't come into your possession overnight. In fact, sometimes they might take a whole generation to be appropriated.

The secret things belong to the Lord, but the things that He reveals belong to you.
