

What Makes Today's Prophets Different From the Old Testament Prophets

Dr. Michael Brown believes prophets still play an important role in today's church. But prophets today have a very different function than they did in the Old Testament, and that should affect their ministries. If you or someone you know is practicing the prophetic, you need to watch this video.