

What to Do When Dangerous Discontent Boils Over in Your Heart

Have you ever wondered why we, as Yahweh's children, can't ever seem satisfied with our bodies, our living situation, our financial status, our children or family members? Some of us can't ever seem to be content with much of anything going on in our lives. I have noticed social media playing a much larger role in this epidemic more than ever in the years past. It's so easy to be tempted to see your life being miserable when everyone else's life looks extremely "social media" happy. They say a picture speaks a thousand words, but do they?

I believe as a society, we have learned how to manipulate photos with the right content. It may seem as though others' lives are flawless and without any wrinkles. The fact is, everyone goes through tests and trials. The disciples did. Their faith was continually tested and so was Yeshua's. When He was on that cross, He asked the Father why He had forsaken Him (Matt. 27:45-50)? The Father hadn't forsaken Him, because He was Yahweh in the flesh. There is no way the Father had forsaken Him or Himself. And it's the same with us.

The Father dwells within us, as we have given ourselves to Him in Yeshua's name. It wasn't what was in His soul crying out; it was His flesh. If we look at this in a spiritual manner, our flesh is never satisfied. It craves and is in constant want of more. So we must discipline our flesh. Crucify it daily! This how we mature in becoming more like Yeshua. This is how we exemplify Elohim.

When this happens, we receive blessings beyond our comprehension. Allow the process to happen and see for yourself the best life that has already been ordained for you.

Let your pictures represent Yahweh's favor on your life.

It will be good. I promise you. {eoa}
