

When Followers Become Leaders

In a recent episode of the Coach & Joe Leadership Podcast, hosts Chad Norris and Jessica Longshore compare leaders and followers and make the case for Jesus' strength as a leader being directly and completely connected to his ability to be a follower.

This episode—both on podcast and YouTube—is packed full of deep vulnerability about Jess's walk through a former drug addiction and the fresh understanding of how to daily rely on Jesus.

Also, if you are interested in getting discipled hands-on for a year by the Coach & Joe team, then check out for our training school and learn how to walk in genuine friendship with God.