

Which of Your Favorite Christian Artists Are Up for Grammys?

CeCe Winans, MercyMe and Tauren Wells topped the Christian categories for the 2018 Grammy Awards, which were announced Tuesday morning.

Each artist received two nods; Winans for best gospel performance/song and best gospel album, Wells for both best contemporary christian music performance/song and best contemporary Christian music album, and MercyMe for best contemporary Christian music performance/song and best contemporary Christian music album.

Contemporary Christian Music radio favorites Casting Crowns, Hillsong Worship and Zach Williams also received nominations.

Check out the full list:

Best Gospel Performance/Song:

“Too Hard Not To” – Tina Campbell

“You Deserve It” – J.J. Hairston & Youthful Praise featuring Bishop Cortez Vaughn

“Better Days” – Le’Andria

“My Life” – The Walls Group

“Never Have To Be Alone” – CeCe Winans

Best Contemporary Christian Music Performance/Song:

“Oh My Soul” – Casting Crowns

“Clean” – Natalie Grant

“What A Beautiful Name” – Hillsong Worship

“Even If” – MercyMe

“Hills And Valleys” – Tauren Wells

Best Gospel Album:

Crossover: Live From Music City – Travis Greene

Bigger Than Me – Le’Andria

Close – Marvin Sapp

Sunday Song – Anita Wilson

Let Them Fall In Love – CeCe Winans

Best Contemporary Christian Music Album:

Rise – Danny Gokey

Echoes (Deluxe Edition) – Matt Maher

Lifer – MercyMe

Hills And Valleys – Tauren Wells

Chain Breaker – Zach Williams

Best Roots Gospel Album:

The Best Of The Collingsworth Family – Volume 1 – The Collingsworth Family

Give Me Jesus – Larry Cordle

Resurrection – Joseph Habedank

Sing It Now: Songs Of Faith & Hope – Reba McEntire

Hope For All Nations – Karen Peck & New River