

Why Married Couples' Prayers Are So Powerful

Prayer is powerful. It puts us in a conversation with the perfect Father who loves you more than anyone ever could, and has more power than anyone you could ever know. So it makes sense that we would bring that love and power to bear in the most important earthly relationship most men will ever have.

Brett Clemmer shows us what the Scriptures have to say about the power and purposes of prayer and how that applies to our relationships with our wives. Not married? This lesson is guaranteed to help you make your next dating relationship be the best it could possibly be.

This is habit No. 4 of spiritually happy men.

The Big Idea: Praying with my wife brings the Greatest Power in the universe into my most important earthly relationship.

Click here to watch or listen to the Bible study. For the original article, visit . {eo}

Patrick Morley is the founder of Man in the Mirror Ministries.