

Why 'One Million Moms' Is Asking You to Boycott Disney's New Movie 'Lightyear'

Monica Cole, director of , says Disney isn't taking its LGBTQ agenda for granted. If it can't get its way in pushing biblical immorality in one way, it will resort to another.

After Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis recently signed the Parental Rights in Education Bill, which prohibits public schools from indoctrinating children grades K-3 with pro-gay, pro-transgender propaganda, Disney has decided that it will—much to the delight of homosexual activists everywhere—restore a previously cut lesbian kissing scene in its June Pixar release of its animated movie Lightyear.

Cole is using her platform as the director of One Million Moms to ask parents to boycott the movie and let Disney know that they will not stand for the immorality the entertainment mogul is pushing.

“Disney doesn't think you will care, nor does it think Christian parents and grandparents will take a stand for their children or grandchildren,” Cole says. “I think and hope you will. I encourage you to join with me and other parents in telling Disney you're not buying what they're selling. Sign our pledge committing to boycotting Disney Pixar's movie Lightyear when it is released in theaters and on streaming platforms. After you sign the pledge, please be sure to share this alert on your social media pages. Help us spread the truth about Disney today.”

Previously, Disney CEO Bob Chapek initially said his company would not take sides in the controversy. But once the loud, expected rhetoric came from the LGBTQ Left and accused Disney of being “anti-gay” and hateful for not vocally opposing the Parental Rights in Education Bill, Disney quickly abandoned its neutral position for one of total surrender. Chapek then apologized to his employees in a letter, saying, “You needed me to be a stronger ally in the fight for equal rights, and I let you down. I’m sorry.”

“The Florida law is simply designed to protect the youngest school-age children from being taught lies, such as how their birth gender might possibly be a freak of nature and that they can change it,” Cole says. {eo}

Shawn A. Akers is the online editor for Charisma Media.

Follow breaking news like this on our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.