

WikiLeaks: Clinton Camp Believed President Obama Committed Voter Fraud in 2008

With the “Podesta Email” count now at more than 12,000—and likely to grow despite a reported effort to stem the flow by cutting co-founder Julian Assange’s internet connection—WikiLeaks’ document releases seem to be getting more outrageous by the day.

The latest email, from Hillary Clinton’s presidential campaign chairman, John Podesta himself, was dated in May of 2015. In it, he seems to suggest U.S. Sen. Bernie Sanders’ campaign is engaging in a tactic that cost his candidate the Democratic nomination in 2008:

High importance. I met with Jim and Mike in Denver. They are both old friends of the Clintons and have lots of experience. Mike hosted our Boulder Road Show event. They are reliving the 08 caucuses where they believe the Obama forces flooded the caucuses with ineligible voters. They want to organize lawyers for caucus protection, election protection and to raise hard $. They are not just Colorado focused and have good contacts in the region Mike is likely to talk to WJC about this in the near future. Marlon and Brynne, can you respond to the org chart request and give them some points of contact. Marc can you reach out to them on the lawyer election protection issues. Thanks.

It’s unclear if his fears were realized or not. But it does open the door to some very dangerous possibilities, now that the very same “Obama forces” are now working to help elect Clinton in November.
