“We’re actually being tracked,” Drew says in a recent episode of The Jim Bakker Show. “I always thought, ‘Well, that’s an interesting theory,’ but I really did label it as conspiracy.”

Then Drew met with a higher-up in the Department of Homeland Security. The official revealed that even the average Joe who searches something about the Islamic community or Barack Obama versus Hillary Clinton, is red-flagged.

“You’re in the system,” Drew says.
