

Lecrae Gets Raw at Pentecostal Church: 'I'm a Ticking Time Bomb'

During a sermon at Rich Wilkerson Jr.'s VOUS Church, Lecrae opened up about childhood trauma and the pressures of success. He admitted to being molested at 7 years old by a family member and later being abandoned by his addict father. He described how he'd become unhealthy through years of suppressing emotions and fears, saying, "I'm a ticking time bomb." But he also says he's proof that God can bring joy through our pain and darkness. Watch his powerful message here.