

Pastor: God Wants to Give You New Revelation of Who He Is During Quarantine

Pastor Tim Ross says God has a purpose for you in this time of quarantine. That purpose may simply be to spend time with Jesus in a new way so you might receive revelation of who He really is, he says.

“My prayer and my hope is that God has been dealing with your heart while you’ve had limited access to go outside, and because of coronavirus you wouldn’t—you don’t want to even step outside,” Ross says. “ ... Maybe this season of quarantine has been designed for you personally to get your heart exposed to a new revelation of Jesus in a way that you’ve never had in the past. Maybe God wanted to get some time with you—more time than you’ve had in the last decade.”

Let us know what you think in the comments below. Listen to the entire sermon titled “Come Get Your Sight” by clicking here.