

17,000-Plus Churches Unite for This Amazing Opportunity

For the first time, more than 17,000 churches that are subscribers of RightNow Media, the largest streaming library of biblical video content, will have the exclusive free opportunity to host a satellite livestream of IF:Gathering on Feb. 8–9, 2019. IF:Gathering will take place in Dallas and feature a prestigious lineup of speakers, including founder Jennie Allen.

Though IF:Gathering frequently sells out, women across the nation will still be able to experience spiritual renewal through the new partnership between RightNow Media and IF:Gathering.

“Right Now Media harnesses the power of the screen to equip the church with inspiring, biblical content,” said Brian Mosley, president of RightNow Media. “This partnership with IF:Gathering is a strategic way for us to carry out that vision by providing access to the conference for churches across the nation.”

In addition to providing streaming opportunities for the IF:Gathering conference, RightNow Media will now co-produce women’s Bible studies with both Allen and IF:Gathering’s extensive network of Bible teachers. The first such study will feature Allen teaching on 1 Corinthians and will release in February. Filmed on location in Greece, the series features edifying teaching and stunning scenery as well as an accompanying study guide for viewers.

“At IF:Gathering, we equip women with gospel-centered resources so they may learn more about who God is and disciple other women right where they are,” said Allen. “By partnering with RightNow Media, we are able to equip more women with these resources than ever. Together, we can reach further, to the ends of the earth for the name of Christ.”

RightNow Media will also work with IF:Gathering to create a curated library of women’s content, featuring IF:Gathering videos. As mentioned above, RightNow Media’s 17,000 subscribing churches were offered the chance to simulcast IF:Gathering’s February 2019 event for free. IF:Gathering provides a deep, honest space for thousands of women to answer the question, “If God is real, then what?”

“Jennie Allen and IF:Gathering have impacted the lives of women nationwide,” said Mosley. “There’s great alignment of mission and strategy between our two ministries, and we are excited for this partnership to advance the kingdom.”
