

3 Major Bombshells Everybody Should Be Talking About

The past couple of weeks have truly been historic.

Take a moment and just consider some of the major events that we have witnessed. Donald Trump got shot, Joe Biden dropped out of the race for president and Kamala Harris quickly became the new presumptive nominee. It is hard to remember a time when so much has happened in such a short period of time.

Now more bombshells have dropped, but because so much else is going on they are not getting the attention that they deserve. The following are three major bombshells that everybody should be talking about right now.

#1 It appears that Joe Biden had some sort of a medical emergency while he was in Las Vegas last week.

A Las Vegas hospital was on standby after being alerted about a possible medical issue with President Joe Biden Wednesday afternoon while he was visiting Southern Nevada.

Law enforcement and medical teams gathered outside the University Medical Center trauma room entrance on Wellness Way in case the President of the United States arrived after he canceled an appearance at the Unidos US Convention in Las Vegas due to testing positive for COVID-19. Unidos US President and CEO Janet Murguía made the announcement to attendees who were waiting to hear the president speak.

You don't rush someone to the hospital because of COVID. Something else was clearly going on.

The hospital that was put on alert is “the only Level 1 Trauma Center in Nevada.”

Due to the hospital being the only Level 1 Trauma Center in Nevada, that’s where the president will go during a medical emergency.

Van Houweling said the hospital was alerted around 2:15 p.m. about a possible medical issue with the president.

Why didn’t the big news networks make a big deal about this?

Apparently “hundreds of Las Vegas Metropolitan officers” heard the emergency orders that were issued.

Several law enforcement officers on duty that day were informed over the radio that the president was dealing with an unspecified medical emergency. Far from a case of the sniffles, this was sent out on encrypted police airwaves as if something akin to a five-alarm fire had broken out.

Our sources estimate that it was “easily” hundreds of Las Vegas Metropolitan officers and employees who heard the broadcasts live, so a curious media shouldn’t have a problem reporting any follow-ups to this story. The dispatches made clear that this was much more than a mere change of plans, because it set into motion so much of their on-duty emergency response apparatus.

Radio dispatchers responsible for coordinating with the president’s detail requested an immediate “surge” of law enforcement resources into the area, both to secure the vicinity and to expedite the president’s movement.

Ultimately, Biden must have improved significantly, because he did not end up going to the hospital. Instead, he was taken to the airport where he departed on Air Force One.

According to a reporter that was on the plane, Air Force One “flew so fast the plane shook.”

The Daily Mail's Emily Goodin posted last Wednesday night after Air Force One landed in Delaware, “POTUS arrives in Dover. “I’m doing well,” he said. Flight time from Vegas was three hour 48 minutes. AF1 flew so fast the plane shook” (Travel Math has normal Vegas to Dover timed at four hours and 50 minutes.)

It is obvious that something happened in Las Vegas and it is being hushed up. Could this medical emergency have played a role in Biden’s decision to suddenly exit the race?

#2 The Oversight Project, a watchdog group that is part of the Heritage Foundation, has uncovered some absolutely stunning information. Their analysis of phone data has revealed that someone that was regularly at the home where Thomas Matthew Crooks lived also visited a building in Washington D.C. that is located very close to an FBI office.

Who visited Thomas Crooks’ home before he attempted to assassinate President Trump?

Mobile ad data analysis reveals someone who regularly visited Crooks’ Pennsylvania home also visited a building in D.C. near an FBI office.

Many people do not realize that our phones are constantly gathering data on all of us. In this case, phone data could be the key in determining why Crooks did what he did. According to the Oversight Project, there were nine phones that “were located at Crooks’ home and work within the last year.”

The Oversight Project identified nine devices linked to AD-

IDs that were located at Crooks' home and work within the last year.

Per the Heritage Foundation's Oversight Project: "We found the assassin's connections through our in-depth analysis of mobile ad data to track movements of Crooks and his associates"

"To do this, we tracked devices that regularly visited both Crooks's home and place of work and followed them," the Oversight Project said.

One of those phones made a trip to Washington. Who owned that phone? And who did that person meet with in Washington? We definitely need answers to those questions.

#3 It has been determined that one of the "alien mummies" that has been discovered in Peru has fingerprints that are not human.

Bizarre diagonal grooves along the fingertips and toes of one of Peru's eerie and hotly debated 'alien mummies' points to a nonhuman origin for these odd remains.

Worldwide controversy has followed the small peculiar specimens since September, when veteran broadcast journalist and prolific UFO researcher Jaime Maussan first presented two alleged 'alien' corpses to Mexico's congress last year.

The man that examined the fingers of this "alien mummy" is actually a defense attorney that once worked as a prosecutor in Colorado.

Now has spoken to a former Colorado prosecutor and current defense attorney, who has examined one of the over half-a-dozen 'alien' specimens with the help of three independent forensic medical examiners from the United States.

'These were not traditional human fingerprint patterns,' that attorney, Joshua McDowell, told .

This guy sounds quite credible, and the Daily Mail has posted a photo of the bizarre fingerprints on this "alien mummy". If this creature and the other "alien mummies" that have been discovered are not human, what are they?

As I detailed in my latest book, I believe that the stage is being set for a great deception that will shake the entire world. Of course the truth is that deception is already everywhere around us.

We aren't being told the truth about Biden. We aren't being told the truth about Trump's shooter. And there are hundreds of other things that we aren't being told the truth about.

George Orwell once warned us that "in a time of deceit telling the truth is a revolutionary act." Sadly, Orwell's statement is more relevant today than ever, and a lot more deception is on the way.
