

3 Unusual Things You Need to Know About Elon Musk

Elon Musk is easily one of the most powerful people in the world. However, there are some things that may just shock you about one of the globe's most influential people.

Elon Musk is reportedly donating $45 million a month to a Trump super PAC.

Musk meant it when he said he would fully support Donald Trump. Publicly pledging his support behind the Republican nominee and former president, Musk is now going all in on his donation to see Trump succeed. As Forbes reported, the business mogul has yet to contribute to the America PAC as of June 30. However, his X post endorsing the former president came after Trump was shot on July 13.

This would be the largest political donation Musk has ever given.

Musk has given political donations to both sides of the aisle. According to Forbes, Musk gave $25,000 to the National Republican Congressional Committee in 2005, sending similar amounts to the GOP in 2006-2008. He's also given $40,000 to the Democratic National Committee from 2007-2010. A Hillary Clinton PAC only benefited $5,000 from Musk back in 2015.

As the Economic Times reported, Musk gave an upward of $50,000 previously to the McCarthy Victory Fund. These figures pale in comparison to the proposed $45 million a month to ensure Trump's path back to the White House.

Musk is the latest celebrity to flee California.

Musk has joined the growing list of celebrities and everyday Americans who are choosing to leave the Golden State.

Musk has moved his business operations out of California to Texas because of the latest law that Gov. Gavin Newsom signed which would allow schools to hide information from parents related to students' decisions to change their gender.

"This is the final straw," Musk wrote on X. "Because of this law and the many others that preceded it, attacking both families and companies, SpaceX will now move its HQ from Hawthorne, California, to Starbase, Texas."

While little is known about Musk's faith claims, it's clear that he is gravitating toward a more conservative outlook on life. Pray for him that he not only move toward conservatism, but toward the person of Jesus Christ.
