

83,000 Christians Taking a Stand Against Satanic Ritual at State Capitol

Something dark is brewing in Kansas, but “God-fearing Americans” are rising to meet it with prayer, faith and unwavering conviction.

Later this month, The Satanic Grotto plans to hold a “black mass” at the Kansas state Capitol—an event meant to “dedicate the grounds and our legislature to the glory of Satan.”

The very thought of it is disturbing, but rather than sit idly by, Christians across the country are taking a stand.

As reported by The Christian Post, TFP Student Action, a group affiliated with the American Society for the Defense of Tradition, Family, and Property, has launched a petition and organized a counterprotest in Topeka on Mar. 28.

Their petition has already garnered over 83,000 signatures in an effort to stop what they call a “blasphemous parody of a Catholic Mass.” Jon Paul Fabrizio, a spokesperson for TFP, made it clear that the response has been overwhelming: “This outpouring of support shows that Americans still recognize blasphemy when they see it and are willing to stand up in defense of God’s honor.”

This is more than just a political or cultural battle, it is a spiritual one.

The enemy is not flesh and blood but the forces of darkness working to deceive, corrupt and ultimately destroy (Eph. 6:12).

The fact that this event is being framed as a protest in favor of abortion rights only reinforces the deeper issue at play: a blatant attack on life, truth and righteousness. But despite the darkness, we must not lose sight of our mission.

The goal is not just to stop this event—it is to see the very people involved transformed by the grace of Jesus Christ.

It may sound unthinkable, but what if the very satanists planning this mockery of God's name ended up repenting and turning to Christ? The Apostle Paul himself was once a persecutor of Christians before he had a radical encounter with Jesus. God is still in the business of saving souls, and as Christians, we must pray not only against the wickedness of this event but also for the salvation of those who participate in it.

The good news is that Christians are not standing by in silence. On the same day as the satanic event, TFP has secured a permit for a rosary rally at the Capitol's south entrance, where they expect hundreds of believers to join in prayer. "We will be joined by God-fearing Americans from all over the country," Fabrizio said. "This protest is not just about Kansas—this is a fight for the soul of America."

And he's right. This is bigger than Kansas. It's about whether we, as a nation, will bow to the forces of darkness or stand firm in the light of Christ. The battle is real, but so is the victory we have in Jesus.

In the face of evil, let's remember who we serve—the King of Kings. May this event serve not as a victory for darkness, but as a catalyst for revival, waking up believers to stand boldly for truth and, ultimately, leading lost souls into the arms of the Savior.
