

After Tragic Death, What's Next for Myles Munroe's Ministry?

The family and ministry of Dr. Myles Munroe is standing strong after a deadly plane crash claimed his life, his wife, Ruth Munroe, along with eight others, including an unborn baby.

At the conclusion of The Bahamas Faith Ministries International 2014 Global Leadership Forum, his son Myles Munroe Jr. offered a statement on behalf of his family.

"I would like to make it known that while we are grieving our losses and are deeply saddened by this tragic event, we have never been nor will we ever be or feel hopeless," Munroe said.

Ministry leaders say Dr. Munroe's vision and legacy will live on.

What lies ahead for the ministry? Dr. Dave Burrows, a leader at Bahamas Faith Ministries International and close friend of Dr. Myles Munroe, spoke to CBN's Mark Martin about this and more. Click play to watch.

Celebration Services for Dr. Munroe and his wife will be held on Dec. 3. The location for the service has not yet been announced.

The official funeral service for the Munroes will be held on Dec. 4 at Bahamas Faith Ministries International Diplomat Center located in Nassau, Bahamas.

Details on services for each of the crash victims are now posted on the ministry website.
