

Amanda Grace and Donné Clement Petruska: Trump Prophecies Fulfilled

During the reelection of Donald J. Trump to the presidency, we have seen the fulfillment of many prophecies come to pass, including those by both Amanda Grace and the beloved prophet, Kim Clement, who passed away back in 2016.

Clement has been known for years as an accurate prophet, and his prophecies about Donald Trump have rung true and detailed for years now. One of the most famous prophecies by Clement was that Trump would be elected for a second term. Now, as we've seen this prophecy fulfilled, Clement's daughter, Donné Clement Petruska, is sharing how this word has encouraged herself and others around the world.

"It was such a beautiful way in which it was fulfilled. Because we had those prophecies and with the ability of sharing things the way we can today with social media," Petruska says in an exclusive interview with Charisma Media. "It was such an easy win, and then to see what happened to Trump with the assassination attempt where he got shot and God moved his head just enough that it wouldn't kill him, and you saw Trump coming out and saying, 'God saved me...' It was the most rewarding, most beautiful thing, and it was fulfilled."

Amanda Grace also shared with Charisma Media how there have been times when the Lord has given her a prophetic word to share, and then Donné would contact her, letting her know that it was something God had spoken to her dad years ago as well. This has been a great source of confirmation for both of them to see how the Lord is working through the prophetic movement. One of these words in particular relates to Robert F. Kennedy Jr.

“Now, I wasn’t aware of the in-depth prophecy that [Clement] had given about Kennedy,” says Grace, “but I remember May 6, 2024, the Lord had me speak in a word, ‘break the curse, oh Kennedy, come out from among them. Now is your chance.’ So, it’s either now or never. The Lord was giving him a window to break the curse, his family’s curse, that’s been upon that name [to] come out from among them.”

Part of the prophecy regarding Trump’s presidency is that he would be a praying president. Now, we’re seeing the beginning of this as Trump has started to acknowledge the presence of God more, especially after the assassination attempt on his life during the Butler, Pennsylvania rally back in July. As Grace says, this experience of making him aware of the fear of the Lord is necessary for Trump to become fully immersed in the Holy Spirit.

“What it has to do with now is for the Holy Spirit to fully enter and for him to become a praying president,” says Grace. “The fear of the Lord had to fill him first, which it has. So, now that door has been unlocked in this time, in this term, for him to actually become a praying president, and a president that brings this nation into an Ezra moment, when Ezra stood before the people and he called them in and he renewed the covenant with them.”

As our nation prepares to move forward into a second term with

Donald Trump as our president, continue to pray for him, for America and for the gospel's impact to be made manifest in our country and around the globe.
