

An Invitation From Jonathan Cahn for a Prophetic, Historic and Crucial Event

We have never seen America shaken by events like those that have taken place in the year 2020. I believe the shaking is not over.

And very soon we will have an election that is undoubtedly the most critical in our lifetimes and that can seal the future of our nation. The Lord gives the answer in 2 Chronicles 7:14:

“If My people, who are called by My name, will humble themselves and pray, and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and will heal their land.”

Without revival, there can be no repentance. And repentance begins with us—then we can intercede for God’s hand on America.

And so I and others have set Sept. 26 for “The Return: The National and Global Day of Prayer and Repentance.” As God has called for in Scripture, we will have a Sacred Solemn Assembly on the National Mall on Sept. 26. There will be believers and leaders from all over the nation coming before God.

We will meet by the Washington Monument at 9 a.m. “The Return” will be all day, with speakers, worship and most importantly prayer and intercession before God—for His mercy, for repentance, for revival and for His end-time outpouring of the Spirit.

And at 11 a.m., I will be giving a prophetic word to America that I believe is appointed for such a time as this.

I believe it will be a prophetic and historic event. I invite you to take part. Let your pastor, friends, brothers and sisters in the Lord know. "The Return" will be simulcast from the Washington Mall and streamed on the web around the country and world. Believers all over the world will be joining together in prayer in their churches, homes and cities to take part with us in Washington, D.C.
