

Argentina Moves to Legalize Abortion, Pro-Life Activists Mourn

Pro-choice demonstrators stood outside Buenos Aires last Friday, where they erupted in cheers upon learning the Argentinian lower house passed a bill to legalize abortion up to the 14th week of pregnancy.

The bill's passage, which comes at a time when abortion is wildly celebrated by the left, was met with intense backlash from pro-life leaders in the U.S.

Lila Rose, founder of the pro-life advocacy group Live Action, shared footage of the celebration, writing: "Satan is real, the author of lies, confusion, and murder."

"The total confusion and celebration over the dismemberment and slaughter of human beings—children, our future children—is satanic," she added.

Satan is real, the author of lies, confusion and murder. The total confusion and celebration over the dismemberment and slaughter of human beings – CHILDREN, our future children – is satanic

– Lila Rose (@LilaGraceRose) December 15, 2020

Jon Wilke, director of media relations for the Southern Baptist Convention Executive Committee, wrote Tuesday: "I don't understand the glee."

I don't understand the glee.

– Jon D Wilke (@jon_wilke) December 15, 2020

Read the rest of this story from our content partner at .
{eo}