

Arizona Abortion Clinics Agree to Sex-Selective Abortions

Live Action just released new undercover footage showing two National Abortion Federation (NAF) clinics in Arizona agreeing to break state law and perform an illegal sex-selective abortion.

The video is the third release in Live Action's "Gendercide" project, documenting Planned Parenthood and NAF's support for sex-selective abortion in America. The video can be viewed at .

The footage shows two NAF members, Camelback Family Planning in Phoenix and the Tucson Women's Center in Tucson, promising to ignore the law and perform a sex-selective abortion and coaching a woman to lie on official paperwork to conceal the illegal abortion.

When the woman purportedly seeking to abort her girl and try again for a boy explains this at the Camelback clinic, a counselor named Barb advises, "Don't tell us that, because we don't want to know." Referring to the clinic's abortion doctor, Gabrielle Goodrick, Barb says, "You can tell her, she's gonna tell you the same thing, just: Don't let it be down! She's really good about that. You'll like that about her."

At the Tucson clinic, the surgical assistant Francisco tells the woman, "We could lose our license," but agrees to cover up her sex-selective abortion. "I'll just forget about it," he says, "But just be sure not to mention it" to the abortion doctor—"Don't even mention it to him."

NAF is the professional trade group for abortion doctors and clinics in the U.S. and Canada. Many NAF board members are current or former Planned Parenthood officials, and Planned Parenthood representatives frequently play a prominent role at NAF annual meetings, according to Live Action.

Sex-selective abortion is a felony in Arizona. No one may knowingly perform a sex-selective abortion in Arizona, or solicit or accept money to do so. Live Action has sent the full footage from the Arizona clinics to the state Attorney General Tom Horne, and to local law enforcement.

“Sex-selective abortion is a global search-and-destroy mission against little girls that is spreading at an alarming rate,” says Lila Rose, president of Live Action, a youth led movement dedicated to building a culture of life and ending the human rights abuse of abortion. “While we wait for Congress to pass the Prenatal Non-Discrimination Act to ban sex-selective abortion in the U.S., state authorities should vigorously enforce Arizona’s law. The clinics supporting sex-selective abortion should be investigated, prosecuted, defunded and delicensed immediately.”
