

Benny Hinn's Vision for the Church in 2025

In a recent Zoom Day of Prayer for 2025, Benny Hinn shared what he believes the church should know for the year 2025.

"This is the year where our hearts must be properly adjusted," Hinn says. "This is going to be probably, in the church, the greatest move of growth we've seen. There's going to be a growth among the remnants in the church we have not seen before."

Hinn believes this growth in the church will take place around the globe in some of the most unexpected places.

"This is going to happen this year. It started already, but there's going to be an intensity that hasn't been seen before among the young people especially. I'm talking about globally, especially in China," says Hinn. "I sense that in my heart for this year that God Almighty is going to move gloriously in China, in Iran, in Turkey, in the Arab world, in Eastern Europe."

Hinn says he believes 2025 will be a year where God's glory will be present in the places that have yet to experience much of His great power and authority.

"...such as Eastern Europe, such as the Arab world. Yeah, there's been a move here and a move there in some parts like Egypt, Lebanon, so on. But I think it's going to spread incredibly. Mark my words, you're going to hear reports happening inside Iraq, inside Syria. Inside parts of the Arab world we really haven't heard much about," says Hinn.

Hinn says because of the great darkness that has been experienced, people's hearts will be ripe for change.

"Light always follows darkness," says Hinn. "And the light of God is about to shine mightily."

"The light of God is going to shine on nations this year that we have not heard much about, including North Korea. Including Saudi 's a fresh outpouring of the Holy Spirit that is descending."

With only a week of 2025 completed, let's pray for these nations, that the people there would be open to receiving Jesus as their Lord and Savior, and that the Holy Spirit would bring revival.
