

Children Dress as Penitents for Holy Week Celebrations in Spain

(Reuters/Francisco Bonilla)

Children dressed as penitents take part in a procession behind a sign with a Christian inscription during the eve of Holy Week in Almeria, southeast Spain, Friday. Hundreds of processions take place around the clock in Spain during Holy Week, drawing thousands of visitors.