

Christian Camp Evicted From Burning Man After Hundreds Reportedly Accept Jesus

A Christian missionary camp was expelled from Burning Man after organizers accused its members of repeatedly violating festival policies while sharing the gospel and conducting baptisms in Nevada's Black Rock Desert.

Federal officers and volunteer Black Rock Rangers ordered Shift the Atmosphere to dismantle its camp Sept. 2, giving members about three hours to begin leaving. Israel365 News reported that the group worked through the night after spending a week constructing the site.
