

Chuck Pierce's Son Offers Spiritual Perspective on Trump's Visit to Israel

While many were excited to see U.S. President Donald Trump land in Israel on Monday, one family watched the events of Trump's visit from a spiritual perspective.

Daniel and Amber Pierce represent Glory of Zion Ministries in Israel and offer insight into what God is doing in Jerusalem.

"Everybody's very excited," Daniel Pierce says. "They're happy to have Trump here. There's a new alignment going on in the politics and the nation here. It's something that we've waited for. And it's felt like Jerusalem and Israel have been in a transition period for a long period of time, and there's now a situation in order that is exciting, so everybody's upbeat."

Watch the video to see what else the Pierces have noticed during Trump's visit.

{eoa}