

Church Shooter Hailed as 'Caring' Rapper by Family

The family of 47-year-old Kentucky church shooter, Guy House, is speaking out about what happened.

According to the Christian Post, House, who killed both a mother and daughter, is being remembered by family members as a "caring and beloved rapper known as HonKy Kong." He was fatally shot by authorities.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

House's victims were 72-year-old Beverly Gumm along with her daughter, 32-year-old Christina Combs. House also shot a state trooper and Gumm's husband, Jerry Gumm, who serves as the pastor of Richmond Road Baptist Church, and Combs' husband, Randy Combs. The two are stable after being in critical condition.

//

As the Post reported, House's friends and family say that he was struggling with domestic issues and was not able to see his daughter.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up to date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Previously, House had a criminal history that included violent behavior at law enforcement. He was originally scheduled for a hearing on Monday for domestic violence. According to the Lexington Herald Leader, it is believed that he first went into the church to find his child's mother who was not present. He then shot and killed Gumm and Combs, the woman's mother and sister.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

Pray for the families of the victims of this tragedy and for all the congregation of Richmond Baptist Church during this difficult time.

Abby Trivett is content development editor for Charisma Media.