

Church Takes Diva Strategy to Win More Women

Need to attract more women to your church? One strategy is to construct your building in the shape of a giant shoe.

Yes, a literal gargantuan Cinderella-esque glass slipper where you can worship.

According to reports, a church in Taiwan constructed a high-heel-shaped building in two months to attract more female worshippers.

The shoe is reportedly 55 feet tall and 36 feet wide, with 100 female-oriented features.

The Elite Daily reports the shoe will be open for church business next month.
