

CN Morning Rundown: 50 Years Ago Today, Jesus Transformed a Drug Addict Into a World Changer

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

50 Years Ago Today, Jesus Transformed a Drug Addict Into a World Changer

It was 50 years ago today that Jesus saved me from my sins. Fifty years!

I am beyond amazed that I can even write these words. Lord, You are so good!

It was 50 years ago today that, after weeks of spiritual wrestling and deep conviction of sin, I encountered His love so deeply that I said, "I will never put a needle in my arm again." And the rest, as they say, is history.

'The Chosen' Actor Says 'Fertile' Revival Imminent

Walking along Paris' famed Champs-Elysees this week, actor Jonathan Roumie, who plays Jesus in the television series The Chosen, tells CBN News that he's humbled by how God is using the show to touch millions of people around the world.

"Do you often pinch yourself realizing the magnitude of the role that you are playing and how well the show has done?" CBN News asked.

"I don't know if I pinch myself, I'm more 'bow my head to the ground' because I never feel that I'm worthy of the things that are happening as a result," Roumie says.

Celebrity Doctor-Turned Republican Politician Does ‘Shameless Flip-Flop’ on Abortion

Dr. Mehmet Oz, host of The Dr. Oz Show and a U.S. Senate candidate in Pennsylvania, is being accused of refusing to clearly state when he believes life begins and of “shamelessly flip-flopping” on the abortion issue.

“I’m pro-life,” Oz, who would be the first Muslim elected to the Senate, repeatedly said during an appearance Wednesday on Fox News Primetime. He also offered the caveat that his stance comes with three exceptions: rape, incest and the life of the mother.

Host Will Cain pressed the popular TV doctor on the issue, asking what he believes, “as both a doctor and a senatorial candidate,” about “when life begins” and when the legal line should be drawn on abortion. {eo}

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.