Chris Reed Unveils Prophetic Warning About the Coming 'Perfect Storm' for America

In a recent prophetic dream, Pastor and MorningStar Ministries CEO Chris Reed says he saw that America is headed for tumultuous times in its future, perhaps to the point where many of the 50 united states will secede from the union before the country is redeemed and renewed.

"I believe we are coming upon a perfect storm as we see these events unfolding in the world," Reed says. "I don't believe America will be exempt from this. We really need to be in prayer and preparation and warn people around us. Although this will turn out to be successful, there are going to be some bumpy roads ahead. I think more than ever we need to have a prophetic perspective of current events around us.

"I had one of the most vivid, detailed dreams I've ever had that I believe is from the Lord regarding unfolding events from this point forward," he adds. "It's something we really need to take heed as a warning to prepare.

Houston Apologizes to Hillsong Congregation. What's Next For Him?

Former Hillsong Church founder Brian Houston has apologized to church members in an email sent one week after the church's global board announced his resignation for inappropriate behavior in separate incidents involving two women, including a former staff member.

In the email obtained by the Australian news outlet Eternity News, Houston, 67, apologized to church members and his wife, Bobbie, with whom he co-founded the now global megachurch in 1983.

The former global senior pastor also admitted to using alcohol to cope with the “many years of constant pressure, opposition, challenges and attacks, accompanied by my personal turmoil over my father’s evil.

‘The Devil Got Ahold of That Circumstance,’ Denzel Washington Tells TD Jakes About Will Smith’s Oscar Debacle

Denzel Washington is speaking out about the widely publicized encounter where Will Smith slapped Chris Rock during the Oscars on March 27.

The 67-year-old actor and others like actor Tyler Perry were seen approaching Smith and providing comfort in the wake of the stunning act of violence that shocked Hollywood and viewers.

As CBN’s Faithwire reported, the unfortunate moment unfolded after Rock joked about Smith’s wife, Jada Pinkett Smith, who has a shaved head due to struggles with alopecia. “Jada, I love you,” Rock said on the stage. “GI Jane 2, can’t wait to see you.” {eo}
