

CN Morning Rundown: 'Firestorm' Can't Dim the Joy of 100 Students Being Baptized at Christian School

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

'Firestorm' Can't Dim the Joy of 100 Students Being Baptized at Christian School

A North Carolina Christian School administrator says parents are "extending grace" after more than 100 students were baptized without their consent.

Administrators at Northwood Temple Academy (NTA) in Fayetteville, NC, said students spontaneously volunteered to be baptized after attending the school's "Spiritual Emphasis" event, but they were not expecting the controversy that followed.

"We certainly weren't expecting the firestorm to come from this," Renee McLamb, Northwood Head of School told CBN News. "Honestly, the whole faculty and staff of middle school and high school were overwhelmed. We've had great outpouring of the Lord on our students before, but never where it seemed like the line would never stop. They just kept coming to the stage."

Queen Elizabeth's Search for the Wisdom of God

As the longest-reigning monarch in British history, it comes as no surprise that Queen Elizabeth II sought out the wisdom of God. She was a beacon of inspiration for men and women worldwide, and her faith and trust in God has led many to the Lord during her 96 years of life.

The flag lowered to half-mast with a rainbow behind Windsor Castle on Thursday. People gathered around and sang, "The Queen had died. God save the King."

Famous evangelist Billy Graham was an unlikely friend of the queen. He once said, "I have always found her highly intelligent and knowledgeable about a wide variety of issues." Her call to serve exemplified her deep, personal, Christian faith, and compassion for those in all sectors of life.

2018 Prophecy Foresaw Shaking of Nations

I've been spontaneously prophesying on my "Mornings with the Holy Spirit" broadcast since 2014. Sometimes, the words don't go further than the prayer call. But we archive them.

I wanted to share this one with you, as it predicts the season we're in now. We need to heed these words now and prepare for the future.

I heard the Lord say:

"For the days are growing darker and the time is growing short. And there will come a time, even soon, when things will look much differently in this world than what they've looked like in the past, or what you thought they'd look like in the future. For I am coming, and angels are coming to stir the waters, to stir the waters, to stir the waters ... {eo}