

CN Morning Rundown: Former NFL Players Publicly Calls Out Georgia Senator, Pastor for Pro-Choice Stance

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

Former NFL Players Publicly Calls Out Georgia Senator, Pastor for Pro-Choice Stance

Former NFL player Benjamin Watson – who is outspokenly pro-life – called out Sen. Raphael Warnock (D-Ga.) on Sunday after the lawmaker tweeted about being a “pro-choice pastor.”

Warnock, who serves as senior pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, tweeted that as a “pro-choice pastor,” he has “always believed that a patient’s room is way too small for a woman, her doctor, and the United States government.”

In response, Watson referenced data from the pro-life group the Human Coalition, which claims 76% of the abortion-seeking women who find and connect with the organization say they would “prefer to parent” if their circumstances were different.

Latest Mandate Threat by Biden May Leave US Military Jobless and Poor

“Joe Biden has a new threat in his attempts to force religious military members to choose government over God, one that will bankrupt many of those who have fought and bled for our freedom. Read on to learn Joe’s latest scheme, and what Liberty Counsel is doing to stop him.” –Mat Staver.

Douglas* has served in the United States Marine Corps all his adult life. For more than 13 years, he has worked and trained to become one of the best fighter pilots in our armed forces, earning the rank of Major in the process.

The Corps taught Douglas to fly in the Naval Air Training Command, eventually putting him in the cockpit of an F-18 fighter jet and then the F-35—America's premier fifth-generation fighter designed to dominate the battlespace against all adversaries.

Florida Bill Aims to Limit Curriculum on Sexual Orientation and Gender

Florida state lawmakers advanced a new measure on Jan. 20 which would prohibit any discussion about sexual orientation or gender identity in public school classrooms from kindergarten into middle school.

WFLA-TV reports the proposed bill would be based on the Parents' Bill of Rights passed by the state legislature in 2021. House Bill 1557 and companion Senate Bill 1834, would require schools to "adopt procedures for notifying" parents if there is a change in their students' welfare.

State Rep. Joe Harding (R-Williston) proposed the bill in the state House. State Sen. Dennis Baxley (R-Ocala) sponsored the Senate version. The television station reported the text of the bills is identical. {eoa}

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.