

CN Morning Rundown: Mario Murillo: God Is Ordering the American Church to Get Back on the Offensive

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

Mario Murillo: God Is Ordering the American Church to Get Back on the Offensive

Editor's note: Mario Murillo wrote this before the first night of his tent crusade in Sacramento, California, where God did a miraculous work. Read about it here.

It is the eve of our next tent crusade, and I hear God speaking. Not sermons for the tent. And not even prayer for miracles. He is saying, "Tell the American church it is time to get back on the offensive." God is commanding the church to ignore every outward sign of resistance and limitation. He is ordering the church to get back on the attack. It is time to attack Satan's stranglehold on America.

Remember, America is a land of covenants. There are old wells of revival. Deep spiritual history. God is rolling up His sleeves. He is fiercely warring to restore what America was before the poison of "wokeness" entered her veins.

Christian Teacher Defiantly Resigns in Front of Virginia School Board, Denounces "Highly Politicized Agendas"

A Loudoun County (Virginia) Public Schools teacher, frustrated with the "highly politicized agendas" the school board has been pushing on its students, teachers and parents, defiantly turned in her resignation at a school board meeting Tuesday.

In an emotionally charged speech, fifth grade teacher Laura

Morris, who has taught in the Loudon County system for five years and has been a teacher for 10 years in all, told the board that “you no longer value me or many other teachers you employed in this county.”

“Within the last year, I was taught in one of my so-called equity trainings that white, Christian, able-bodied females currently have the power in our schools and ‘this has to change,” Morris said. “Clearly you’ve made your point. ... So, since my contract outlines the power that you have over my employment in Loudoun Public County Schools, I thought it necessary to resign in front of you.

Pro-Life Billboard Removed in Texas One Day After Death Threats Issued

A group of pro-life Christians commissioned a billboard in rural Texas calling on locals to “ignore” the Supreme Court’s 1973 ruling on Roe v. Wade, which gave legal cover to abortion. After just one day, though, the banner was removed because the landowner received death threats.

The group, Abolish Abortion Texas (AATX), designed the billboard, which promoted the website under the phrase, “62 million dead and counting.” The link directs visitors to the AATX website, which states, “We should abolish abortion in Texas, regardless of what the Supreme Court says we can do.”

The billboard, located outside Boyd, Texas, contained no graphic imagery. {eo}

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.